

TRAFFICKING IN PERSONS

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AWARENESS INITIATIVE

It Was Late Afternoon...

“I was washing dishes at the river with six other girls. We tried to run, but they caught us. Three girls resisted. To punish them, they cut off their ears. They knifed out their eyes. Then they killed them.”

“I was so afraid, I couldn't move. They said if we struggled, they would kill us too. They raped us. They held me down. It was the first time I had sex.”

It's Worse Than You Realize

Trafficking in persons is the 2nd largest criminal activity in the world, following illegal drugs
Just in front of illegal arms

Who is Responsible?

Who is Responsible?

The “bad guys” are not just the people who operate the trafficking enterprise – they are also their customers, who could be:

- Contractors
- Government Civilians
- Military Personnel

Zero Tolerance in the Armed Forces

Involving yourself with trafficking jeopardizes your career

U.S. Government Resolve

On December 16, 2002 the President signed a National Security Presidential Directive mandating a “zero tolerance” policy toward trafficking among members of the US armed services, civilian employees and civilian contractors

From the Commander in Chief

“...the policy of the United States is to attack vigorously the worldwide problem of trafficking using law enforcement, diplomacy, and all other appropriate tools.”

“Those who patronize this industry debase themselves and deepen the misery of others. Governments that tolerate this trade are tolerating a form of slavery.”

(President George W. Bush, Sept 2003)

TRAFFICKING PHENOMENON

Poverty is So Miserable...

“I was desperate. When they offered work, I had no choice but to accept. Soon after my arrival in Japan, I realized that I had been sold. My life after that was like that of an animal.”

“I was sold three more times and forced to have sex everyday. My owner threatened that wherever I escaped to, I would be traced and killed and so would my parents in Thailand.”

“Set me free: Women immigrants often forced into prostitution,”

New Internationalist, Siriporn Skrobanek, September 1998

Trafficking Phenomenon

Objectives

- Be able to define trafficking in persons
- Be aware of the origins of trafficking in persons
- Be able to identify behaviors of the perpetrators of this problem

What is Trafficking in Persons?

The United Nations defines trafficking as:

Recruitment, transportation, transfer, harboring or receipt of persons. . .

By means of the threat, use of force, coercion, abduction, fraud, deception, abuse or exploitation

Trafficking is...

- Holding and/or transporting people against their will
- Forcing people into servitude through violence and/or deception

Trafficking is...

- Buying or selling human beings
- Supporting the above by hiring forced prostitutes or patronizing forced labor establishments

Vocabulary

- Involuntary Servitude
- Debt bondage
- Commercial Sex Act
- Sex Trafficking

The Victims

Most victims are women and children who have been:

- Kidnapped
- Tricked
- Coerced/Forced
- Sold by their families

Circumstances Leading to Victimization

Women and children often become victims of trafficking for the following reasons:

- Poverty
- Lack of safety nets
- Low status within family
- Ill informed families sell their children
- Cultures of shame ban trafficked persons

Trafficking is...

Modern day slavery stemming from:

- Greed of perpetrator
- Economic hardship
- Destabilizing forces
 - ✓ Criminal activity
 - ✓ Government corruption
 - ✓ Armed conflict

Perpetrators

Traffickers entice and control their victims in a number of ways

- Lying to victims about future employment, travel, living conditions or treatment
- Promises of valid immigration and travel documents
- Threat of harm to the victim and the victim's family

Perpetrators (continued)

- Involving victims in additional criminal activities
- Moving victims around on a circuit of workplaces or brothels
- Coaching victims on what to say to officials

Who Are the Perpetrators?

- International organized crime
- Small trafficking groups that specialize in one specific country
- Individual freelancers

Don't Assist the Perpetrators

You aid and encourage trafficking in persons without engaging in it directly by:

- Hiring prostitutes
- Attending nightclubs or strip clubs
- Patronizing businesses that are heavily guarded
- Not reporting cases of suspected trafficking
- Patronizing establishments that use forced labor

Types of Trafficking

- Sexual exploitation
- Child prostitution
- Forced labor
- Child soldiers
- Indentured servants
- Organ harvesting

DETECTION

There Was a Bar Downstairs...

“Every night we were made to go there and find clients for sex. I tried not to attract attention by dressing modestly and sitting by myself.”

“Girls who would not cooperate were taken down to the basement and beaten across their backs – where it would not show but still be painful – causing damage to their kidneys.”

The Protection Project Database

Detection

Objectives

- Be able to identify signs that a person may be a victim of trafficking
- Be aware of where trafficked persons can be found
- Know the procedures for reporting an instance of real or suspected trafficking

Signs of Trafficking

- Victims can't speak the local language or move about and live in the local community
- Heavy security and restrictive access at brothels or other workplace
- Secretive advertisements for services
- Domestic violence

Where to Find Victims

- Nightclubs
- Bars
- Modeling studios
- Spas
- Clubs
- Escort services
- Massage parlors
- Adult bookstores

Photo Credit: Teun Voeten – Panos Pictures

Advertising

Advertisements for establishments that use trafficked persons will boast of having an ethnically diverse staff and can be found in:

- Yellow pages (under escort service and massage parlors)
- Free guides at adult bookstores
- Mail-order bride catalogues
- Tabloids

Reporting Trafficking

If you believe you have witnessed a trafficking operation or believe a person is being trafficked, you should.

Report that information to your chain of command, Provost Marshal or IG

LEGAL PROVISIONS

Legal Provisions
